Soldiers and Workmen Decide to Vote Again On Coalition Government

RUSS PREMIER ALSO BATTLES FOR UNITY

Announced Steps Show Seriousness of Situation Confronting Nation

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)
 PETROGRAD, May 15.—With Russia crumbling away in the blaze of a too fervid flame of democracy, the executive committee of the soldiers' and workmen's delegates began to see the peril of the situation. The committee reconsidered its vote of last week when coalition in government with the Duma members was rejected. The vote of 23 to 22 was held indecisive and it was announced a meeting of the entire delegation will be held tonight, when the same question will be passed upon by all of the 2000 representatives of the soldiers and workmen now here.

At the same hour what is left of the provisional ministry will meet at the home of Prince Lvoff, premier, to discuss some form of coalition which may save Russia from disintegration. Meanwhile, the provisional leaders as another last resort measure to obtain unity of action among the conflicting elements, dispatched Foreign Minister Milukoff to the battle front. His mission is to meet with the soldiers, to plead with them to show a united front to the enemy and to stand firm for responsible united governmental administration at home.

Seriousness Shown
 These steps show the seriousness of the situation and the courage and zeal with which the Duma leaders, now fully awake to the peril, are fighting to avert a disaster. Milukoff was the man who was recently attacked by the soldiers' and workmen's committee in Petrograd for this statement approving compacts with the allies entered into by the old autocratic regime. A storm was raised against him by representatives of the soldiers.

Now he goes to the front, presumably to face his enemies, or at least his accusers and strive to win them back to unity of action.
 Today, with Petrograd a buzzing hive of rumors, a few of the cooler heads of the leaders were discussing the possibility that the move which might save new Russia would be a return, in part, at least, to dictatorial methods—a despot raised by the people themselves to exercise control specifically lodged with him by the people. The radical newspaper Raech made the suggestion. Some elements agreed that some strong man might by force restore complete order.

PLEA TO RUSS SOLDIERS ISSUED AT PETROGRAD

PETROGRAD, May 15.—A powerful appeal to Russia's soldiers not to be blinded to the fact that Germany is seeking the destruction of free Russia; calling for a revolution of workmen and peasants in Germany and Austria-Hungary, and again voicing a demand for renunciation by the allies of any policy of conquest, was issued by the workmen's and soldiers' council today.

CHAOTIC STATE BRINGS GENERALS' RESIGNATIONS

PETROGRAD, May 15.—Generals Brusiloff and Gourkas today tendered their resignations because of conflicting orders resulting from the chaotic conditions here.

HUNT FOR LOST BOY AT EUREKA IS FUTILE

EUREKA, Cal., May 15.—Searchers returning early today reported they had been unable to find any trace of Irving Hill, 12-year-old son of W. G. Hill, real estate man, who disappeared Sunday while fishing along the Lawrence river. Cold weather and rain Monday night led to the belief that he had may have perished of exhaustion and hunger. It is not believed he drowned.

THIS is Prince George E. Lvoff, the new premier of Russia, with whom what is left of the provisional ministry will meet tonight to discuss some form of coalition to save Russia from disintegration. This photograph was posed for since Lvoff became premier.

GRAIN GAMBLING FATE HANGING IN BALANCE

Exchange Representatives of Big Cities to Take Steps Halting Future Trading

CHICAGO, May 15.—The fate of grain gambling was to be decided today.

Representatives of the grain exchanges of St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Toledo, Omaha and Duluth were to meet here with officials of the Chicago Board of Trade at 3 o'clock this afternoon to take uniform action toward stopping all trading in futures.

These steps will be considered, it was stated unofficially today:

Establishment of a maximum price for all wheat futures, the prices to be adjusted as the market requires.

Prohibition of further trading in any May grain contracts.

Fixing of maximum prices on July and September corn.

Elimination of the purely speculative element from the market and adoption of strict rules and exercises of suspension of those who do not conform.

Uniformity of action in demanding excessive margins.

Significance Seen
 Considerable significance was attached to the summoning of several big grain dealers before United States District Attorney Clyne late yesterday. Among them were Nelson B. Updike, vice president of the Updike Commission Company of Omaha, who is understood to have been trading heavily in wheat lately; F. J. Thatcher, president of the same concern; Henry S. Robbins, attorney for the Board of Trade, and H. B. Jackson of Jackson Brothers.

Clyne refused to say whether any action was contemplated by the Federal grand jury. That body was busy all day yesterday on the Chicago butter and egg board investigation.
 Robert W. Childs, special attorney general in charge of food investigation, was due in Washington today, following a conference with government officials and representatives of the Board of Trade here yesterday. He is said to have with him a statement as to the holdings of all wheat purchased on the board, commission firms having bared their books voluntarily.

Flour Price Boosted
 The immediate effect of the uncertainty of grain conditions was the inevitable boost in the price of flour. It took a jump of 80 cents late yesterday to $17.50 wholesale for the family brands.

Simultaneously, it was intimated that the 20-cent loaf of bread would soon make its appearance.

Wheat Maximum to Continue

CHICAGO, May 15.—Representatives of nine American and Canadian exchanges met here today and decided to recommend to their organizations that the maximum prices recently set in all wheat futures be continued until further notice and that trading be restricted to liquidation of existing contracts.

DISCUSS TRADE ECONOMY

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., May 15.—More economical conduct of trade was the big proposition before the Retail Merchants' Association of South Dakota, which met here today for a three-day convention. Speakers urged closer co-operation between retailers and consumers.

TOWNSEND WILL GIVE $20,000 TO MASONS OF SANTA ANA

Wants Money Put At Interest and Used For Establishing Home For Poor

By the will of B. F. Townsend, filed for probate today, $20,000 is left to the Masonic lodge of Santa Ana, to be put at interest until it becomes $160,000, at which time it shall be used to establish a home for indigent Masons.

There is $1000 left to the Santa Ana Eastern Star.

The remainder of the estate, valued at $100,000, is distributed by the will among relatives. The largest portion will go to Mrs. Mabel T. Lowell, daughter of the deceased, named in the will as executrix.

The will was filed by Attorney H. C. Head, representing Mrs. Lowell.

B. F. Townsend was a pioneer rancher here. Without aid of attorneys, he wrote his will, and had it witnessed by E. B. Sprague and F. W. Mansur.

The two paragraphs of the will concerning the bequests to the two Santa Ana lodges follows:

"I give in the name of my wife, Anna E. Townsend, now deceased, to the Santa Ana Chapter No. 105, O. E. S. of Santa Ana, California, the sum of $1000, to be by said chapter put at interest and the interest only, used for charitable purposes—the principal never to be encroached upon.

"I give to Santa Ana Lodge of Master Masons No. 241, A. F. and A. M., the twenty shares of stock now owned by me, in the Masonic Temple Association; also, I bequeath the sum of $20,000, with the injunction that the lodge shall put the same at interest and keep it three times. Money put at interest at 7 per cent compounded annually, will double in ten years, two months and 26 days. If the money is kept at work the lodge will be in possession of $160,000 in 30 years, 8 months and 18 days—say 31 years or even 32 years. When that time arrives it is my wish that the lodge purchase a few acres of good land and thereon erect a home for indigent members of the lodge and order, and there should be a surplus left to maintain the home. There are few things more pathetic than penitents and homeless old age—the result of misfortune, but I think more frequently the result of bartering future comfort and independence for present luxury. I regret my inability to give enough so you could at once proceed with the benevolent undertaking but a due regard for my immediate relatives, bars the door to my desire. The few short years which intervene will soon pass. Conditions in thirty years will be much the same as at present. 'The poor ye have with you always, do them good whenever you can.'

"If for any cause, legal or otherwise, the lodge cannot accept the bequest, it is my wish that it be returned to my estate."

The will directs that $500 be left to W. S. Cooper of Orange and $500 to Mrs. Cooper. Sums varying from $50 to $300 are left to a number of eastern relatives. To each of four grandchildren $5000 is left, and $1000 to a son-in-law and $1000 to a daughter-in-law. Mention is made of valuable property already given to son, Ernest F. Townsend of Los Angeles, and the will directs that $11,000 additional go to his use.

The residue of the estate, after the other bequests are made, are to go to the daughter, Mrs. Lowell, of Santa Ana. The will was written on September 23, 1914.

CAPTAIN LEEDS MADE DISTRICT ENGINEER

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—Capt. Charles T. Leeds, retired, yesterday became U. S. district engineer for the Los Angeles-San Diego district, succeeding Major George B. Pillsbury, who has been assigned to duty at the San Francisco presidio. Since retiring from the U. S. engineering corps, Capt. Leeds has engaged in business here.

ECONOMY HINT GIVEN

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Economy hint: Eat 12 cents worth of cottage cheese and you'll get more protein than is contained in a pound and a half of pork chops, says the United States department of agriculture today. A pound of such cheese daily, the department declares, will supply all the protein required by an ordinary man working indoors.

MAY 19 PROCLAIMED S. A. CLEAN-UP DAY BY CITY TRUSTEES

To Our People, the Citizens of Santa Ana:

Your Board of Trustees trying to serve you faithfully, ask your earnest co-operation in cleaning up vacant lots and especially the parkway next to the gutter curb. Saturday, May 19, has been designated as Clean-Up Day, therefore, get all rubbish, such as trimmings, old broken furniture, old boxes, old iron, weeds and trash generally and place it on the parkway next to the gutter curb, and our city teams will come along and haul it away without cost to you for this clean-up day only.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

PETITION FOR PHONE MERGER FILED IN S. F.

Exclusive Story In Register of Imminence of Consolidation Confirmed

Confirming the Register's exclusive story of last Thursday giving authentic information on the proposed merging of all the properties of the Union Home Telephone & Telegraph Company with the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company, comes the announcement that George B. Ellis in San Francisco today filed a petition with the railroad commission asking permission to consolidate the two companies.

The Register "beat" all its competitors in Southern California on the story, even "scooping" the publications in the metropolis of Southern California, in making the first authoritative announcement of the deal pending.

The exclusive story came as the result of an interview by Long Distance with F. C. Mason, division commercial superintendent of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company in Los Angeles.

Chief Files Petition

Ellis is president of the Union Home Telephone & Telegraph Company and went to San Francisco yesterday for the purpose of filing the petition today. He is the father of Lyman R. Ellis, manager of the Orange county district of the Union Home Company. Filing of the petition in San Francisco this morning is confirmed by the local manager who today received a telegram advising him of the fact.

The date when actual consolidation of the two plants in this city and in other cities where the dual system is maintained, is entirely problematical. It may take the commission several weeks, possibly months, to get to the point where the necessary permission can be given. Other processes in the merging may add weeks or months, and it may be six or eight months before the two companies are brought together in an interchange of service.

Union Holdings $240,000

The Union has an investment of approximately $240,000 in Orange county, where it has five exchanges. The value of the plant here is about $125,000. Anaheim about $50,000, Fullerton and Garden Grove about $25,000 each and Tustin about $15,000. Other Home exchanges affected by the merger are at Long Beach, San Pedro, Wilmington, Lomita, Ventura, San Bernardino, Colton, Highland and Rialto. Consolidation has already been effected at Riverside.

"The petition was filed in San Francisco this morning by my father," said Lyman R. Ellis this morning, speaking of the proposed merger. "Negotiations between the officers of the two companies have been in progress for some time and have reached the point where arrangements satisfactory to both companies have been completed."

U. S. Must First O. K.

"I don't anticipate actual consolidation of the local exchanges under six months, and it may be longer than that. The commission will have to first act on the petition and its findings will have to be approved by the national government."

"When the consolidation is effected it will be absolute. The Home people will step out of this field entirely. The Home will have the management of the exchanges at Long Beach and San Bernardino, with the Sunset controlling at the other places where Home exchanges exist at the time of the merger."

RECORD WALNUT CROP FORECAST THIS SEASON IN COUNTY

S. A. Valley Association Head Makes Sweeping Survey, Sees Giant Yield

With an abnormal crop of nuts setting on the trees at this time, the Santa Ana Valley will this year reap the richest crop of walnuts in its history if hot weather in the summer does not blast the prospects.

O. H. Burke, secretary of the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' Association, has about completed an exhaustive survey of the walnut situation in the section east of the Santa Ana river and pronounces the prospects for a big crop the brightest in the history of the walnut industry in this county.

The trees never looked thriftier and the nuts never set better than this season.

"Indications are for a fine crop, both in quantity and quality," said Burke this morning. "Up to the present time there has been no dropping. There is hardly a nut on the ground under the trees. Usually the first drop starts between the first and middle of May. The nuts are forming perfectly and the production will be far above normal if nothing happens to injure the crop before it matures."

To Handle 2200 Tons

"I estimate the association will handle this season at least 800 tons more of nuts from the same acreage than it did last year, when we took care of 1400 tons. In addition to this I have had the good fortune to increase the acreage in the association from 54 per cent to about 70 per cent, or 16 per cent of the acreage that last year was independent."

Burke has been engaged for the past three weeks in making a close canvass of the groves in the section mentioned. He has called on every grower in the district, taking the name of the owner, the number of acres, the character of walnuts grown, the age of the trees and the location of each grove. This data will be listed at the office of the association and will prove valuable to the organization in compiling information on the industry.

Meets Every Grower

"This will be the first time the association has had a full listing of groves and owners," said Burke, "and it will place us in a position to keep in closer touch with the situation. I have found groves that we had no knowledge of whatever—did not know that they existed. I met every grower personally and presented to each one the business side of the association and the benefits to be derived by identification with it. I increased the acreage about 16 per cent and expect that before the books are closed to new members for this season the percentage will be still further increased as a direct result of my work among the growers."

Burke would make no prediction as to prices that might obtain for the crop, but said they would undoubtedly rule higher than they ever did before.

ARRESTS OF BUREAU HEADS IN TEUTON SPY RING SAID IMMINENT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Arrests of German spy bureau heads at Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco today are expected soon as the result of a statement made by Frank E. Wolf, alleged German agent arrested here. Wolf's arrest was followed by the announcement that Rudolph Flammergeringer is in custody at San Diego and Wolf is declared to have told the authorities that Flammergeringer is head of a spy system covering Southern California thoroughly and of which Wolf was a part.

At least six men are said by the authorities to be directly implicated by Wolf while intimations are that prominent men in business life have been connected with the financing of Mexican plots through Wolf's story.

The spies under Flammergeringer gathered information as to food supplies, army and shipping movements.

SAYS JAPAN TO SEND NO TROOPS TO FRANCE

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—"Japan has, and will continue to furnish Russia with munitions and arms, but Japan will not land troops on French soil," declares R. Hata, Japanese ambassador to Brazil, who is here today en route to Tokio.

According to Hata, the majority of the South America is pro-Entente, although there is some strong pro-German feeling in some points.

PETAIN IS NAMED SUPREME COMMANDER OF FRENCH FORCES

PARIS, May 15.—General Petain was today named generalissimo of the French armies, with supreme command of the forces in the field.

General Foch, one of the heroes of the Marne, who commanded the French center at that memorable battle was named to succeed Petain as chief of staff. General Nivelle, who has been in command of the French field forces, will have command of certain army groups.

The sweeping changes in the commands of the French fighting forces were decided upon at a session of the council of ministers.

General Foch's brilliant strategy was directly responsible for the blow which eventually won the battle of the Marne and forced the Germans back from Paris in the early days of the war. With his line menaced by the German onslaught, Foch tried a new move in military strategy. He drew his troops from the weakest spot in his line and shifted them to a strong section. Before the Germans could penetrate the weak spot, Foch threw his massed forces in a tremendous blow against the German flank, forcing a retirement all along the line.

Foch had been announced as retired several weeks ago at the time Nivelle was named generalissimo and Petain chief of staff. The new orders reduce Nivelle.

90 DIE AS BIG LINER IS SUNK BY TORPEDO

Passengers Arriving At New York Tell of Submarine Blow At British Ship

NEW YORK, May 15.—Ninety lives were lost on April 24 in the torpedoing of the 7782 ton British liner Abosso, off Fastnet, according to stories of passengers here today from Europe.

The ship was torpedoed without warning. Forty-six passengers were lost and forty-four of the crew.

The Abosso was unable to stop her engines after the German torpedo struck the hull and smashed into three of the lifeboats, crushing those aboard or drowning them. She was bound from Nigeria to Liverpool.

According to the version brought here, the Abosso was steaming 300 miles south of Fastnet on the night of April 24. About 9 o'clock a lookout saw lights ahead. Almost immediately afterward the torpedo exploded against the ship's side. No submarine was sighted then or later.

The Abosso was armed and fitted with wireless. An admiralty patrol, summoned by wireless, picked up the survivors within 45 minutes and landed them in Liverpool.

Thomas W. Cooper, of Watonga, Okla., a passenger, and Louis M. Gobous, of New York, a member of the crew, were both among those saved.

More than a week ago the London Chronicle printed a story demanding to know why the British admiralty concealed the torpedoing of a "certain big ship" with a "loss of more than seventy lives." The Chronicle probably referred to the Abosso.

WHITE STAR LINER MISSED BY TORPEDO

NEW YORK, May 15.—A torpedo fired by a German submarine at the White Star liner Baltic April 19, missed the great liner by a bare ten feet, according to information obtained today from travelers in New York.

JOSEPH H. CHOATE IS DEAD IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 15.—The war today has claimed its first distinguished American. As numerous leaders in European countries have died since the outbreak of the conflict, from overtaxing the strength, so Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to the court of St. James and dean of the American bar, died at his home here last night.

The end came at 11:30 with no physician in attendance, and with only the widow and Choate's daughter, Mabel, at the bedside. Mrs. Choate is in a serious condition. Choate was 85. He took a leading part in New York's receptions to the French and British commissions here last week and the strain was too great. Angina pectoris was given as the cause of death.

WILSON TO USE WHIP TO SPUR SOLONS

President Grows Weary of Dilatory Tactics of Members of Congress

STAFF WOULD VETO BILL AS IT STANDS

Army Heads Will Urge That Volunteers Be Picked After Selective Draft Is Made

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The Roosevelt division amendment is now a clause in the selective service army bill.

House and Senate conferees today wrote into the measure the amendment offered in the Senate by Senator Harding, Ohio, which authorizes—but does not direct—the President to raise a volunteer force of picked troops, the presumption being that they will be led into France by Theodore Roosevelt.

The conferees will report their agreement in both Senate and House today, and both branches of Congress are expected quickly to concur so that the measure can go to President Wilson tomorrow.

The army staff is said to favor vetoing the measure as it now stands, but it is pointed out that the President is not compelled in the bill to authorize volunteer divisions.

It is probable that army heads will urge that no volunteers be picked until after 1,600,000 men have been secured under the selective draft bill.

Wilson to Use Whip

President Wilson's advisors today say that he is out of patience with Congress' dilatory tactics during the past six weeks and plans to use the whip. It is said that he will not mince words in condemning the introduction of extraneous matters into war legislation.

Secretary Daniels says that inactivity is delaying submarine chaser equipment.

The appropriation committee today reported out the urgency deficiency bill carrying $3,400,000,000.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The urgency deficiency bill provides $400,000,000 for the purchase and construction of merchantmen, $200,000,000 for the army and $37,000,000 for the navy.

PASTOR HELD IN AXE MURDER CASE ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

RED OAK, Ia., May 15.—Formal plea of not guilty was entered today by attorneys for Rev. Lynn George J. Kelly, following reading of the indictment charging him with beating out the brains of Joe Moore, his wife, four children and two little daughters of Joe Stillinger in the famous Villisca murders of June 9, 1912.

Kelly, accompanied by his wife, was remanded to the local jail. An order to remove him to Des Moines for safety will be argued this afternoon between Attorney General H. M. Hanner and Kelly's attorneys.

TERMS OF SETTLEMENT OF IRISH QUESTION BE SUBMITTED TOMORROW

LONDON, May 15.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Andrew Bonar Law today announced in Commons that Premier Lloyd-George will tomorrow transmit terms of settlement of the Irish question to the Irish leaders.

GENERAL A. H. GREENE NEW DISTRICT CHIEF

DOUGLAS, Ariz., May 15.—Brigadier General A. H. Greene today assumed command of the Douglas military district, following the retirement of Brigadier General Thomas F. Davis. On the eve of his departure, General Davis was waited on by the mayor of Douglas, who presented the officer with a watch, and expressed the city's regret at his departure.

COLOSSAL BLOW FORCES ALLIES TO FALL BACK

BERLIN, May 15.—The Germans have stormed and captured St. Bertha farm, east of Monchy, and British attacks around Monchy were broken down under annihilating fire, the war office today announced.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Members of the general staff of the United States army today believe that Germany is planning one of its greatest offensives against the western front. They say that all signs point to this. With Russia eliminated as a military factor, Germany has completely switched its plans, transferring its forces from the east to France and Belgium, army men here believe.

LONDON, May 15.—Germany today launched a concerted attack on both the French and British fronts of such force as to suggest almost a general counter offensive movement. The attacks were repelled for the most part, but both the British and French forces were compelled to relinquish insignificant bits of ground.

Field Marshal Haig's report detailed a tremendous German bombardment of the positions his troops have gained on the Hindenburg line and particularly at Bullecourt followed by attacking waves. There was heavy fighting. In the northern part of the village the British commander-in-chief frankly stated British advanced posts have been "forced back a short distance."

The French official report showed a violent bombardment of General Nivelle's recently gained positions on the Chemin des Dames (Ladies' Highway) and a powerful German attack over a wide front near La Bouville. The assault was repulsed by machine gun fire except in one spot, where a small advance trench was occupied.

Other attacks reported in the French war office statement indicated the tremendous scope of the German counter offensive movement—at Flain, north of Craonne, east of Hill 108, northeast of Auberville attacks being repulsed. They were declared unsuccessful by the official statement.

FRENCH MACHINE GUNS CHECK BOUVILLE ATTACK

PARIS, May 15.—The German forces launched an attack against the French lines on a wide front near Bouville, following a violent artillery bombardment, the war office announced today.

Heavy fighting at various other sections of the front was also reported. In the Bouville attack the Germans were checked by heavy machine gun fire and failed to reach the French lines except at one small advance trench.

Other German attacks were launched southeast of Pizan, north of Craonne, east of hill 108 and northeast of Auberville, all of which the war office said, failed, French defenders imprisoning many Germans.

In the Woivre and Lorraine French raiding parties successfully cleaned up enemy trenches, taking many prisoners.

ITALIAN OFFENSIVE IS UNDER WAY IN THE WEST

ROME, May 15.—The Italian offensive is well under way. The artillery is active from Tolmino to the sea, with the infantry progressing around Plava, Mount Cucco and west of Gorizia.

CHANCELLOR DECLINES TO DISCUSS GERMANY'S AIMS

LONDON, May 15.—Chancellor Holford today refused to discuss Germany's war aims in the Reichstag, according to a wireless from Berlin. He declined to discuss peace aspirations, saying, "It wouldn't serve the interests of Germany."

JELICOE IS NAMED NAVAL STAFF CHIEF

LONDON, May 15.—Admiral Sir John Jellicoe yesterday was appointed chief of the naval staff of the British admiralty.

Details of Draft Day Are Set Forth By War Department

(NOTE—The war department sends the Register the following, with the urgent request that it be given widest possible publicity. The Register is glad to avail itself of this opportunity to aid the government.)
WASHINGTON, May 15.—The war department today made the following announcements regarding the registration of citizens liable to draft:

"The war department wishes to impress upon the people that there is only one day for registration. All males between the designated ages must register on the day set. The fact that five days were allowed for the placing of the necessary blank forms in the hands of registrars appears to have misled some headline writers. One day only—the day fixed in the President's proclamation—will be devoted to registration.

"The war department is gratified by the spontaneous offers of uncompensated assistants in carrying out the work of registration.

"One father in offering to serve as registrar, writes: 'I have two sons in the guard and one in the regular army, but I want to do my little bit.' This is typical of hundreds of letters. All such offers properly should be made to the governors, who are the heads of the registration machinery in their respective states.

It should be clearly understood that no male resident of the United States between the designated ages is excused from registration unless he is already in the military or naval service of the United States; that is, a member of the regular army or navy, the marine corps, coast guard service or that part of the national guard now actually in the federal service. Registration is distinct from selective service. Registration is a necessary preliminary to the later process of selection.

"It is useless to ask registrars to excuse anyone from registration. The registrar has no such powers. No one can suspend the law requiring all to register.

"It is important that all shall understand the significance of registration and it is hoped that the day will be approached in the spirit with which the government has appointed it. Democracy is its essence. No one can absent himself, nor can the well-to-do man hire another to represent him on the occasion. The country's manhood will present itself on this day and by so doing will say in effect: 'Here I am. Take me.' Not only has the individual citizenry of the country made a remarkable response to the registration call, but the states through their official heads have indicated such zeal that there is great rivalry among some of the commonwealths for the honor of making the first complete registration returns.

"Many questions are asked daily at the war department concerning the registration of traveling men and other absentees. On the sixth day after the date of the President's proclamation anyone subject to registration who expects to be absent from his home on registration day should go to the clerk of the county where he may be staying. If he is in a city of over thirty thousand population the city clerk is the official to whom to apply. The absentee will be told how to register and a registration card will be filled out. This card must be mailed by the absentee so as to reach the registrar of his home precinct by registration day. The clerk to whom the absentee applies is not empowered to issue the absentee a registration certificate. This is issued by the registrar in his home precinct.

"Persons too sick to present themselves for registration must send a competent person to the county or city clerk on the sixth day after the date of the President's proclamation. The clerk will give instructions for registration."

HAMMOND AGAIN ELECTED HIGH SCHOOL HEAD

P. T. A. Folk Secure School Ground Use For Kiddies During Vacation

Expressing themselves as highly pleased with the work of D. K. Hammond as principal of the Santa Ana Polytechnic High School, the members of the Board of Education last night reelected him to that position for the coming school year.

The action of the school trustees was unanimous. "Highly satisfactory," was the verdict of the board in discussing Hammond's administration during the four months he filled out the unexpired term of the former principal, E. H. McMath.

Mrs. J. R. Baker and Mrs. Mary E. Taney, representing the City Federation of Parent-Teacher associations, asked the school trustees to permit the use of the Polytechnic field and of a school ground north of Fourth street, together with apparatus, for the use of children during the summer vacation. The proposition was agreed to by the board, with the proviso, however, that the Federation appoint two supervisors. The women had asked that the supervisors be named by the trustees. Either the grounds at Washington or Intermediate schools will be given the Federation for the use of children during vacation. The board has yet to decide which of the two will be tendered.

Another committee from the Federation, headed by Mrs. Frier Van Doren as chairman, and introduced by Mrs. F. D. Drake, president of the Federation, asked that the school trustees appoint a home teacher to instruct Mexican families of the city in language, citizenship, housekeeping, sanitation, etc. This was taken under advisement by the board. Acting on the committee with Mrs. Van Doren were Mrs. John N. Anderson and Mrs. N. A. Beals.

The board granted Charles L. Deaver, teacher of history and economics at the high school, leave of absence during the period of the war. Deaver is at the officers' reserve training camp at the Presidio, San Francisco.

CONFESSED SLAYER AT S. F. CALM AS SLEUTHS ASK HIS EXTRADITION

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Minneapolis and St. Paul officers appeared before Governor Stephens at Sacramento today to ask the extradition to one of the twin cities of Joseph L. Redenbaugh, confessed murderer and bank robber. He will probably be turned over to the St. Paul officers who are believed to have a better case against the youth.

Meanwhile Redenbaugh continued to maintain the utmost sangfroid in the city jail here, where he made a detailed confession of the murder of Mrs. Alice Dunn in St. Paul and Policeman Connelly in Minneapolis without showing the slightest emotion. After he had finished his glib story Redenbaugh, without changing tone, turned to Captain of Detectives Matheson and said: "There, now, isn't that worth a box of cigarettes?"

Redenbaugh declared he would never have confessed had he not wished to save his bride of 18, an innocent woman, from being charged with murder. Detailing his crime he said he was offered $1500 to murder Mrs. Dunn and was getting ready to "do the job" when Policeman Connelly arrested him for speeding. He shot and wounded Connelly, he said, and then "knocked him on the head with a revolver to put him to sleep."

The blow killed Connelly. Then the youth recited how he and Frank McCool, also in custody, had gone in cold blood to the house where Mrs. Dunn was staying and how Redenbaugh had "picked her out with a flashlight and shot her down." "Her sister was holding her in her arms as I faded away," he added, nonchalantly.

NAB 45 AS GAMBLERS IN RAID ON LITERARY CLUB IN ANGEL CITY

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—A police visit to the "Los Angeles Literary Club"—supposedly a negro writers' organization—resulted in the surprising of ten trap games in full swing and the arrest of forty-five colored men early today. A volume by the well posted Hoyle is said to compose the club's library.

1 KILLED EVERY 14 HOURS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 15.—Although there is no shrapnel flying around the streets of New York so many people are killed and hurt daily that a complete casualty list would look like an official battlefield statement, according to United Hospital statistics, made public today.

They show somebody is injured in the streets every 23 minutes and every 14 hours one is killed there. In the last twelve months 4224 persons met violent deaths in New York, 1147 were killed by falls, 765 died in street accidents and 428 burned to death.

HARPER WILL HAVE CANNERY

Newport Heights Association Takes Step For Conserving Fruits

HARPER, May 15.—The regular monthly meeting of the Newport Heights Co-Operative Association was held in the Harper schoolhouse recently.

The commercial committee recommended the establishment of a cannery under the approval of the association, to take care of the surplus fruits and vegetables of the community. The association approved the project and Mr. Hall will proceed to establish as soon as possible such a cannery. In this way there will be no waste of food. What cannot be sold in the local markets will be put up in glass jars. Mr. Hall has also secured the promise of a Los Angeles firm to buy the entire output of the cannery.

The meeting was brought to a close by the following interesting program: "America"—Sung by the association.

Violin solo—Voyle Ward.
Recitation—Gladwyn Gillespie.
Song—Miss Fischer.

Piano selection—C. A. Gustlin.
The next regular meeting of the association will be held at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, June 14, in the Harper schoolhouse.

COUNTY DISPENSES WITH POOR HOUSE

MONTGOMERY, Mo., May 15.—The poor farm of Montgomery county was sold at public auction to William Crane of Mineola Springs for $854. The court will approve the sale. There are only three inmates of the poorhouses and the county will send one to Fulton and provide homes for the other two and see if the new plan will save the county considerable money. The county has been in the "dry" column for years.

WAR ON FLIES

WASHINGTON, May 15.—"Promptly mobilize all fly-fighting equipment such as screens, fly-traps, fans, etc., so the first flies may be captured."

This official order went forth from the bureau of animal industry today. It was the first gun in the 1917 spring offensive against the pest. Every corner of the bureau will be devoted to a big early smash against flies in the packing house districts, where millions of them breed unless precautions are taken.

CITY TRUSTEES CO-OPERATE IN CLEAN UP DAY

Will Provide Teams and Wagons For Hauling Away Junk and Rubbish

With the City Council, Chamber of Commerce, Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, civic bodies and residents generally co-operating in the clean-up campaign, Santa Ana will be a clean city after next Saturday, and the criticism of a local resident made in an interview printed in the Register today, will not be possible.

A proclamation issued by the City Trustees today and printed on the first page of today's Register, appeals to the people to join in the spirit of the occasion for a more beautiful Santa Ana, and offers assistance to the extent of providing teams and wagons for hauling away all trash piled on the curbs Saturday.

The captains of the five divisions of the city are real live men and they have thrown their whole soul into the movement and are working earnestly and sincerely in behalf of the entire city. They have made surveys of conditions in their respective districts, and have found the residents actively engaged in the work of cleaning up their premises.

J. M. Akin, captain of the southeast district, reports that property owners in his district are co-operating almost to a man, and he expects to have the cleanest part of the city after next Saturday. He has noted properties owned by non-residents and has or will address the owners asking them to take care of their premises.

N. Travis, captain of the northwest division, reports many forehanded citizens in his district, with the result that vacant lots and curbs have been cleared of weeds and rubbish cleaned out of back yards.

Captain Frank Ey has the school children of the Northeast district well organized and yesterday evening after school hours they went to work with a vim to put an end to weeds and rubbish around their home premises.

Captain P. L. Tople, of the southwest division, is some booster for his district, and says that the parkings in his section are always in show-shape and can stand inspection at any time of the year.

Captains Jernigan and Jackson of the fire department have not been idle. They have inspected their district and found many places that need attention. The conditions found have been called to the notice of the merchants and will receive attention.

President A. G. Flagg of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, has endorsed the clean-up campaign, and requests the co-operation of every member of the organization.

The executive committee of the Woman's Civic Club met yesterday afternoon and endorsed the campaign, and will urge club members to lend their support to the movement.

SWEET POTATOES NEGLECTED SOURCE OF NATION'S FOOD

U. S. Department of Agriculture Calls Attention to the Tuber's Qualities

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.—Sweet potatoes can be made an important and cheap source of food, say specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It is quite easy to increase the acreage enormously and the adoption of better methods of handling and storing would improve the product to such an extent that the demand would be greatly stimulated.

Storing sweet potatoes has always been a more difficult problem than producing them. A large part of the southern crop is kept in pits and banks with the result that probably thirty per cent of the potatoes decay and even those which are fit to put on the market do not keep well. Moreover, the pits and banks cannot be opened during wet or rainy weather without risk of injuring all the stock in them, so that it is not uncommon for growers to be unable, because of weather conditions, to get out their potatoes at the very best time that the market demand for them is the greatest.

Storage Houses
These difficulties can be done away with to a great extent by the use of sweet potato storage houses, the management and construction of which are discussed in detail in Farmers' Bulletin 548 of the Department of Agriculture. Records covering the storage in such buildings of 228,318 bushels of potatoes for an average period of 124 days shows the average decay to be only 2.45 per cent. If they were to be adopted generally by growers in the South, it is estimated that at least ten million dollars would be added to the value of the crop each year.

The sweet potato is, however, like practically all other crops, subject to disease in the field as well as decay.

BEST SPRING TONIC INGREDIENTS TOLD

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Here are the ingredients for the best spring tonic as recommended today by the United States public health service: Spring gardening, fresh air, good drinking water.

Taken with a little exercise in the fly swatting and mosquito pool draining line, the service believes this prescription will cut the undertakers' receipts.

HALF A MILE OF RIVER BANK IS NOW ADDED

Garden Grove Files New Petition For Storm Water District to the West

By filing a new petition, residents of the proposed Garden Grove Storm Water District believe they have now before the Board of Supervisors a proposal for a storm water district that will be acceptable.

Since the first petition was filed, another has been circulated and signed up, and was filed this morning by Attorney H. C. Head, George Reyburn and others interested in the district. In this new petition the amount of west bank of the Santa Ana river channel that the storm water district undertakes to look after has been extended southward half a mile from the point where the first petition designated as the southern point of the bank to be looked after by the district. There is also excluded from the proposed district some territory to the south.

The Board of Supervisors suggested that this territory excluded could be used in a new district to look after the river bank from the Garden Grove segment south to the Newbert district.

PLANNING PILGRIM TERCENTENARY 1920

BOSTON, May 14.—Mayor Curley is giving consideration to a Pilgrim Tercentenary exposition, to cost $2,000,000. He already has forwarded a preliminary sketch of his plans to Governor McCall for inspection.

The mayor's intention is to have the state take up the project, pointing out that Boston contributes nearly 40 per cent of all state expenditures and that such an expenditure would be a reasonable one in view of the national interest in Boston and eastern Massachusetts, which would be aroused if such an exposition were held in 1920.

The project involves extensive reclamation of land off the Calf pastures, thereby enabling the $800,000 old harbor and strandway improvement in South Boston to be incorporated as part of the exposition and also furnishing what the mayor characterized as the most beautiful approach to an exposition imaginable.

MEAT IN BRAZIL IS CHEAP AND PLENTIFUL

Mail.)—Brazil's meat market has not yet been stamped by the high cost of living—doubtless because there are about twice as many cattle in the country as people. The last bovine census placed the figure at 50,000,000 head.

Despite the advice of health authorities who prescribe a light meat diet during the hot weather, Brazilians eat approximately their own weight in flesh, fish and fowl annually. And hot weather is Brazil's eternal portion.

To feed the aggregate stomach of Rio de Janeiro during 1916 it required 105,000,000 pounds of beef, 2,500,000 pounds of veal, 5,700,000 pounds of pork and 400,000 pounds of mutton, to say nothing of a daily portion of about sixty tons of fish, and equal weight of dried beef, 3,000 pounds of poultry and a liberal amount of goat flesh and wild game.

Brazilians probably are great meat eaters because, relatively, meat is the cheapest thing to eat. Prices fluctuated in 1916 between 7 and 13 cents a pound for beef, 7 and 15 cents for veal and 15 and 23 cents for pork.

MOTHER OF MAN WHO WAS KILLED GETS AWARD OF $2250

Yesterday the State Industrial Fund rendered a decision giving Mrs. Amelia Gregory of Delhi an award of $2250 against the county of Los Angeles for the death of her son, Edward Gleason, several months ago while engaged upon a road building job near San Gabriel.

In the negotiations for a settlement Mrs. Gregory was represented by Attorney R. Y. Williams. The opposition came from the company with which Los Angeles county carries industrial insurance.

The evidence showed that Gleason saw a slide of dirt descending upon him, and in endeavoring to escape it he fell over a bluff and was killed. The award of $2250 is payable $10 a month.

GIRL STILL CHAMPION DRIVER OF NAILS

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 14.—Miss Lillian Reike of Fairfax, Minn., who became champion nail driver of the Minnesota School of Agriculture last year, nailed her title down hard and fast the other day in the girls' nail driving contest at the annual indoor field meet at the school.

Miss Reike, swinging her hammer like a veteran carpenter, drove twelve tenpenny spikes in a plank in 1 minute and 14½ seconds.

With the shouts and cries of her classmates urging her on unmindful of blood from a wound in her left thumb, the young woman bent pluckily to her task and carried off the honors for the seniors. Miss Clara Thorndson of Hayfield, Minn., was second and Miss Beryl Hill of Eden Prairie, Minn., third. Miss Thorndson is a senior and Miss Hill a junior. The girls in the contest represented their respective classes as follows: Seniors—Lillian Reike, Fairfax, Minn., and Clara Thorndson, Hayfield, Minn.

Juniors—Lois Lee, Cedar, Minn., and Beryl Hill, Eden Prairie, Minn. Freshmen—Kate Molenaar, Raymond, Minn., and Secunda Hanson, St. Cloud, Minn.

Only two of the six young women were unfortunate enough to hit their fingers instead of the nail. One was Miss Reike, the winner, and the other was Miss Hanson.

Miss Reike took the lead from the start. She drove her nails with long, sweeping swings, making each blow count.

Under the rules of the contest each nail had to be driven straight into the plank.

"I never drove any nails before I came to St. Paul," said the winner after her victory; "that is, in any contests. I won the contest last year, but I do not remember what the time was."

Miss Reike is 20 years old. She was born and raised on a farm near Fairfax.

"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

A BRITISH UNITED STATES

Before the war the British Empire seemed to be breaking to pieces. It was held together by little more than sentiment, and that sentiment did not suffice to prevent self-governing dominions like Canada, Australia and South Africa from adopting policies inimical to the interests of the mother country.

That is all changed now. Sentimental attachment to England, when put to the test, proved strong enough to bring all the outlying parts of the empire into line. They have joined in the war as zealously as if they themselves had been directly attacked by Germany. The whole far-flung empire, the greatest and most varied realm that ever existed, has behaved almost as if it were one homogeneous country. And having fought for the defense of the empire, the various "dependencies, crown colonies and self-governing dominions" have earned their right to a voice in its imperial policies.

This right has been recognized by the imperial conference that has just finished its deliberations in London. There is to be created, at the close of the war, what looks very much like a "United States of Great Britain." The union will not be so close as our union of states, and the various units will not be on an entirely equal footing as ours are, but there will be many striking points of similarity. And the statesmen who are planning the new federation admit that they have taken our own government as their model.

Except for the existence of an emperor-king, who is nothing more than a figurehead, and of an aristocracy whose political authority has already been subordinated to that of the representative parliament, the empire will be a vast democracy, consisting of many self-governing democracies co-operating for their common interest. India herself, heretofore governed as a subject colony, is to have a large measure of self-rule and to have a voice in the shaping of British foreign policies.

Thus the spirit of democracy enters upon new triumphs, full of promise to the whole human race.

APPLE TREES

There is an apple tree standing along a roadside near Frankford, Mo., that is said to have been planted in 1818. It has been bearing with fair regularity for nearly a hundred years, and this spring it is reported in full bloom again, ready to do its part in feeding the nation.

Many and many a time, in the course of this fruitful century, that apple tree has done its humble part, and done it well, only to see its fruit left rotting on the ground. There were so many apple trees in Missouri—and so many people who wouldn't take the trouble to gather their product. But conditions have changed, and fruit trees have come into new honor. There will be plenty of competition for that old tree's crop next fall.

It's a striking reminder of the value of fruit trees in general, and particularly of apple trees. They are longer-lived than most persons suppose. Mere natural vigor carried this patriarch to its ripe old age, but many a tree could doubtless match its record if it received proper care. At any rate, by proper care the life of nearly every fruit tree might be doubled or trebled and its productiveness vastly increased.

Horticulture is in its infancy in this country. Most of the East has been too busy raising wheat, corn, oats and potatoes to give serious attention to orchards. Only in recent years, and generally speaking, only in the Far West, has fruit-growing been practised with modern scientific thoroughness, and with the profit that such thoroughness brings.

CROPS

Suppose the winter wheat crop is as badly ruined as the government reports indicate. Very well! It's up to the farmers of the nation to make up the deficit with a bumper production of spring wheat. It isn't too late yet, in northern regions, to plow up winter wheat not worth raising and sow spring wheat in its place. Thousands of farmers are said to be doing that very thing. There's no reason for expecting both wheat crops to fail—the law of chances is against it. And the total spring wheat acreage this season will be larger than ever. For all anybody knows, we may have a bigger total wheat crop than usual.

But suppose we don't. Wheat isn't our only cereal crop. There is every reason to expect such an enlargement of general production as more than to make up for a wheat deficit. The American farmer is on the job. More effort and more brains are being put into farming this year than ever before. More land is being cultivated. We may have a record corn crop. Then we can eat corn, and Europe can eat corn. We all ought to eat more of it anyhow.

And there are our old friends, oats, buckwheat, rice and the rest. All excellent foodstuffs! And if the aggregate cereal production shouldn't rise as high as we want it to, there are vegetables.

The present outlook is said to be excellent for potatoes. The potato crop is said to have saved Germany two years ago. Our "spuds" might, in emergency, save us and our European friends this year. And with all the farmers and professional gardeners in America spurred to do their duty, and nearly all the rest of our population busy with small gardens, it would be strange if altogether we failed to produce a larger quantity of available food than ever before.

Plant, hoe and dig. That's all we've got to do. Not forgetting, of course, to give proper attention to our fruit-bearing trees and shrubs, and increase our poultry, pig and cattle population.

Friendly Censure
I am indebted to a correspondent (not anonymous) for a courteous, and it may be deserved rebuke.

He thinks he has discovered in this column certain "needless, useless brainless remarks."

Well, it may all be true. At the same time there is some comfort in the theory that one gets from what he reads something akin to the qualities he brings to the reading. Nor do I concede that the matter to which objection is made has precisely the attributes ascribed to it. It least it caused the correspondent to think, and it incited his intellectual and moral parts into formulation of the protesting letter, appreciation of which is hereby expressed.

From time to time it has seemed to be my duty to censure foibles, and this is a privilege there is no desire to withhold from another. The pacifists for instance, have wrought somewhat upon my feelings as an American. In this circumstance seems to lie a part of the correspondent's grievance. Of course nobody denies the beauty and utility of peace. This does not alter the painful fact that many a pacifist, loudest of howl, is a traitor thinly disguised; that he is not a mere simpleton, but now that war has been declared, should be singled out of the bunch, and shot.

Wielding the instrument of veracity as David the ancient sling, the correspondent hurls this stone: "But you are not Henry James, the eminent novelist."

The advantage is mine. The novelist is dead.

To please everybody would be impossible, and to try would not be wise. Had I succeeded in pleasing the correspondent, then must I have lacked the beneficence of his counsel, and the cleansing flame of his wrath.

Delectable Poetry

From a friend in Highlands comes a copy of a poem of the sort that passes for the symbol of soul and genius. Some readers may have seen it, as it has appeared in an anthology of imbecile stuff. Renew acquaintance with it.

Apple green west and an orange bar,
And the crystal eye of a one, lone star,
And "Child take the shears and cut out what you will,
Frost tonight—so clear, and dead still."

The redeeming feature of this is that it evoked a number of parodies, each far superior to the original. Here is a sample:

Crushed pumpkin down and a lemon
squeeze,
Child lead your mother out doors to freeze;

At stuff like this we could never fail.
But we'd never dare offer the stuff for sale.

Yet one may not criticize too harshly the provocative effusion, lest one in turn be called down. And, anyhow, it is proper to deal gently with the feeble-minded.

Chicago's Mayor

Mayor Thompson of Chicago declined to invite the distinguished French visitors so signally honored at Washington.

Regarding Chicago as a mere abattoir surrounded by swine, Thompson would seem to be a fitting executive. Regarding it as an American city, Thompson seems several thousands of miles off his beat.

Pitiful Case

The public will be deeply moved by the movie actor who couldn't pay alimony because his salary was only a miserable $100 a week.

His fellow actors took up a collection for him, thus preventing him from going to jail.

Poverty is a dreadful thing.

Pedagogy

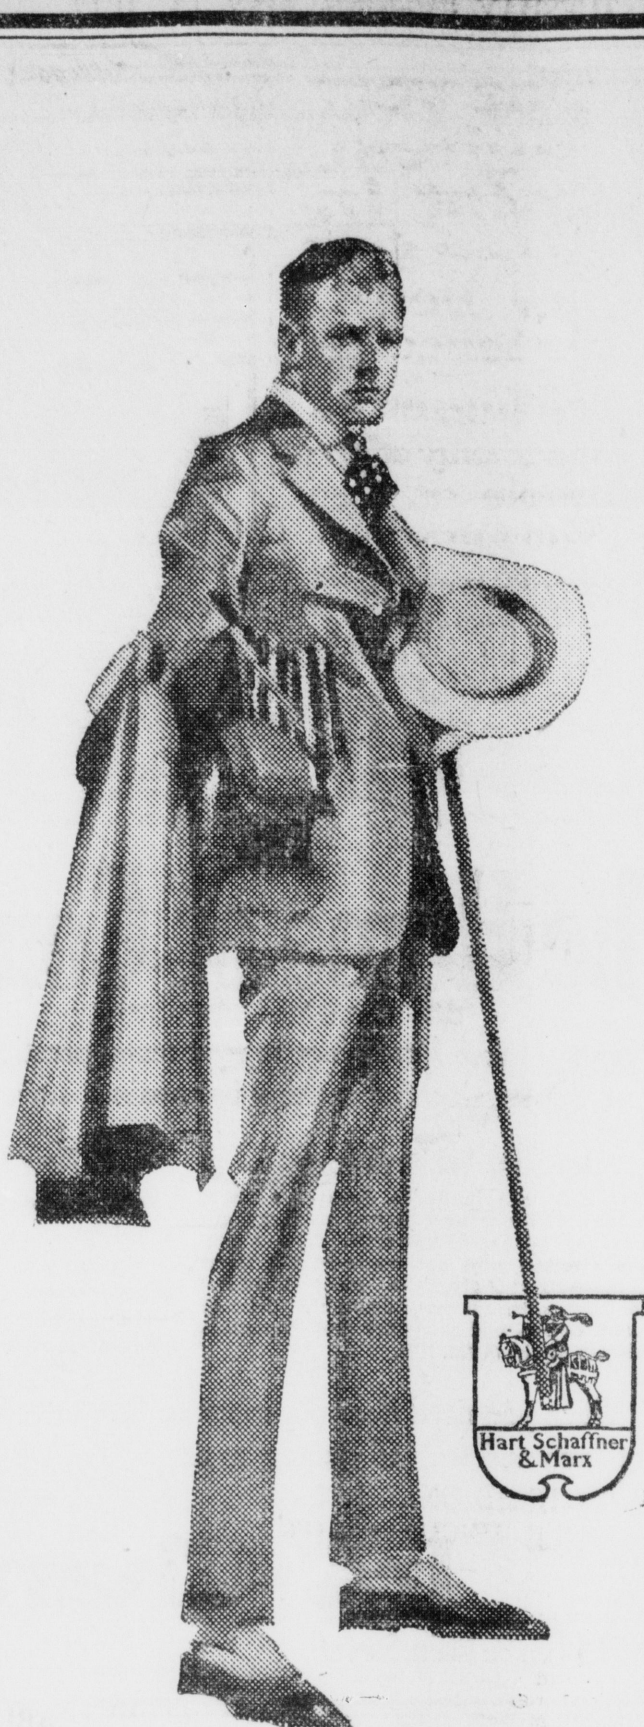

A school principal nearly lost his job because he chucked a lady teacher under the chin.

They let him off on the ground that the chucking was a boyish prank, a tendency toward which he would out-grow.

Besides they may have had a glimpse at the teacher.

To this course there are two obvious objections. One is that Canada is not for sale, and the other that the United States does not want it.

Gambling

Gambling in foods should be regarded as the worst form of gambling.

Even from so dignified a place as the senate comes the suggestion that gamblers of this type be utilized to adorn lampposts.

Hope they will take the hint so quickly that there will be no need for cluttering up the urban thoroughfare.

Women's Pay

Women who do the work of men intimate that they expect the pay of men.

SPOTTED DOG CAUSES GEM THEFT ARRESTS

CHICAGO, May 14.—A spotted dog resulted in the capture and arrest of Lillian Murray and Marie Glavin, after they had found a bag containing $20,000 worth of jewels dropped by Baroness de Wardenner-Hollub, a stage celebrity, according to detectives. The two, who were known as the Murray vaudeville team, sold the jewels instead of returning them, it was said. They were traced to Cincinnati, where they were arrested through the spotted dog which was a pet owned by Miss Murray.

STORIES OF ALLEGED PLOTS TOLD IN COURT

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—Tales of alleged meetings in San Diego, El Centro and other cities near the border, purchase of arms and ammunition, and of the preparations to provision the "army" are being told in federal district court today during the introduction of testimony against Balthazar Aviles, Harry Chandler and others charged with violating American neutrality by conspiring to raise an army here, and send it over the border to wrest Lower California from Mexico.

Thus far, the defense has given no hint as to the testimony it will offer in behalf of the men accused of intrigue in 1914.

FASHION LETTER

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for the United Press)
That gowns would be sleeveless Annette's for preparedness
So keeps on the fight
Of hoisting up dumb-bells both morning and night.
That gowns would be sleeveless This season she wist,
So seeks to be well armed
From shoulder to wrist.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Sleeves are indeed becoming a minus quantity. Soon they will be as extinct as the ichthyornis. In seasons past we have bravely and unflinchingly presented arms to leg-o-mutton, bishop, puff, bacon, bell, tight, flowing, mousquetaire, wing and angel sleeves but this year a sleeve by any other name would still be next to nothing.

At least this sleeveless fashion will free us from the shadow of arrest for carrying concealed weapons since we no longer carry our arms up our sleeves but go around brandishing them quite open and above board.

Positively anyone appearing in anything as obsolete and outrageous as a sleeve in an evening gown would be taken out and shot at sunrise. Even the ordinary quota of two jeweled straps or two head strands, one over each shoulder, has become a bit too sleazy for the extreme sleeveless enthusiasts and so they are left with but a single strap to cling to.

In their struggle for existence the sleeves in the afternoon and daytime frocks and gowns are worn to mere shadows of their former substantial selves. They are thin and fragile and wraithlike of Georgette crepe, chiffon, net or shadow laces. Most of them have dwindled or shrunk to half of their former great lengths and as elbow sleeves are content at most to reach to the funny-bone.

Just a few regulation sleeves there are left in daytime frocks that will pass muster. These are for wear with the new sleeveless jackets and short coats. For yes, even the coats are being torn and worn unsleeved this season. Saucy little straight-cut, hip-length, affairs they are of serge, gabardine, velvet or satin usually elaborately embroidered in gayly colored threads. They are perfect in every sense except a sleeve sense and when it comes to the places where these little coats, however. Though they have their shortcomings they are not really meant for wear with bare arms.

For every little sleeveless coat there is a fetching frock with sleeves to bear it company and thus supply all deficiencies. If lack of a sleeve must be dubbed a deficiency.

Zuave, bolero and monkey jackets are numbered among these smart new sleeveless coats, and pony jackets, too, are very racy. Those that aren't embroidered are stitched and almost all and every one boasts a tassel or two somewhere on it. The sleeves on the gowns that go with these sleeveless coats invariably bob with a tassel at their cuff. Sort of survival of the fittest these sleeves are, too, since they are all close fitting and armbitted.

Appropos of the finish of the fast disappearing sleeve species, whether it is a quick finish or not, at least it is a novel one in almost every instance.

One is tied around the wrist with a little tassel-ended ribbon and then flares out again in a fitted frill below the tie. Another Georgette sleeve in a taffeta frock has a snug little cuff of the folded taffeta finished with a flat pump bow with one loop longer than the other that juts out to the side in a most perky fashion.

Another sleeve to a crepe dress with a beaded bodice has a beaded cuff that fits tight up to the elbow and then bares out into a fullness of unbeaded crepe.

Another of gabardine has a tight cuff with three rows of stitching fastened with a flat bone button, the stitching and the buttons repeated three times up to the elbow where the sleeve juts out at a tangent. A white satin finish on a Chinese blue charmeuse sleeve is a cuff that turns down with two points over the hand that are a-dangle each with a white tassel just waiting to drop into one's soup.

So you see you may scrap up a sleeve or two to laugh in this season but the laugh is bound to be an empty or hollow one and nine times out of ten it is apt to be on you.

MEN SEEKING POSTS IN NAVY PAY CORPS TAKING EXAMINATIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Many young men desiring to become members of the navy pay corps are at Mare Island today taking the navy examination for appointment. Increase in the navy and in its activities require large additions to the pay corps, which corresponds to the quartermaster's corps in the army, and examinations are being held to fill this need for men. The assistant paymasters receive $1,870 to begin with and can expect a raise in salary every five years at least.

PAYING SALARIES OF MEN IN ARMY, NAVY

NEW YORK, May 15.—Many of the big corporations here will pay salaries of employees enlisting in the army or navy. Others will give employees families the difference between their salaries and what they get from the government. This provision for dependents of soldiers and sailors follows the line of action pursued at the time of the recent border mobilization.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Company paid out in salaries to men serving on the border $284,132; the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, $61,809; the New York Railways Company, $34,212 and the Consolidated Gas Company, $20,000 a month.

PLEASANT KENSINGTON

Trio of Hostesses Entertain a Number of Friends Yesterday Afternoon

A trio of South Birch street hostesses, Mrs. J. S. Runyan, Mrs. J. P. Hall and Mrs. R. H. Hall, entertained eighteen guests at a pleasantly informal Kensington yesterday afternoon at the Hall home.

In anticipation of the coming of their guests, the home was a bower of pink bloom, roses making a harmonious combination with maiden hair ferns.

While the guests plied their needles with dainty work, victrola music was enjoyed and several delightful readings by Miss Thetetta Taylor.

Tempting refreshments were served in the dining room, where a long table was centered with a graceful crystal chandelier and a delicate Cecilie Brunner roses. The place cards were also rose-colored.

Among those present was Mrs. I. F. Landis of San Francisco, a guest at the Hall home.

KING'S DAUGHTERS

United Presbyterian Society Meets Last Night With Mrs. J. G. Kennedy

The King's Daughters of the United Presbyterian church had a very delightful supper and social evening last night at the home of Mrs. J. G. Kennedy, fifteen being seated around the festal board to enjoy the good things to eat, prepared by the committee, composed of Misses Flora McFadden, chairman; Lila and Ada Hoy, Myrtle Le Page and Verdellie Breckenridge.

A huge basket of lovely sweet peas occupied the center of the table. After supper, there were devotional exercises, Miss Mary Henderson gave a talk on the life of a missionary in India and Miss Myrtle Le Page told of the need for more workers, especially girls, in Egypt and the need of literature after the girls leave school.

Miss Freda Moesser pleased with vocal numbers, accompanied by Miss Mayne Phillips.

Those present besides those mentioned were Mrs. Kennedy, little Alice Virginia McAuley, Misses Mary Henderson, Gladys and Annette Williams, Lois Smith, Marjorie McGee and Eva Tibball.

Day at Arch Beach

A company formed of Miss Mary Andrews, Mrs. Harriet Edmiston, Misses Pearl and Vanche Plumb, Eunice Davis, Zylpha Dismukes, Emma Hasty, Alice Gall, Lottie Sweet, Della and Olive Wagner, Leslie Smith, Mildred Mead, Estella Daniel and Artie Cleveland, members of a recently organized sewing club, passed a happy day Saturday at Arch Beach.

Places were enjoyed up and down the beach and a bounteous lunch was appreciated at noon.

FORGET IT

If you see a tall fellow ahead of the crowd,
A leader of men, marching fearlessly and proud,
And you know of a tale whose mere telling aloud
Would cause his proud head to in anguish be bowed,
It's a pretty good plan to forget it.

If you know of a skeleton hidden away
In a closet and guarded and kept from the day,
In the dark, and whose showing, whose sudden display,
Would cause grief and sorrow and lifelong dismay,
It's a pretty good plan to forget it.

If you know of a thing that will darken the joy
Of a man or a woman, a girl or a boy,
That will wipe out a smile, or the least way annoy,
A fellow or cause any gladness to cloy,
It's a pretty good plan to forget it.

HEAR GOOD PAPER

Monday Club Members and Wives Enjoy a Good Program and Social Hour

The artistic home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Eley on West Eighteenth street was the scene of a very pleasant open meeting of the Monday Club last evening, sweet peas being the delicate blooms used to grace the home.

A fine paper on "Mining and Mining Investments" was read by A. M. McDermott and proved highly interesting as was shown by the lively discussion which followed.

A social hour made an enjoyable ending for the evening and the hostess served delectable refreshments.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Nealey, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Tarver and the latter's mother, Prof. and Mrs. H. O. Eggen, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Cole, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Cushman, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. McDermott, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Smith, Messrs. P. F. Schrock, Fred Rafferty and T. B. Kelly.

Shower for Miss McKean

Miss Rae McKean, one of the petite June brides-elect, was again the honoree at a charming shower given by a former Occidental College classmate, Mrs. Edwin Robinson of Eagle Rock.

A profusion of lovely roses and ferns made attractive decorations and a pleasant reunion was enjoyed by the college girls while they plied their needles and extended their congratulations to the honoree.

Refreshments were served on individual trays and then a card was given on the guests and on each was a part of a story. Read in turn the cards told a pretty story of an old oaken bucket and when Miss McKean's turn came instead of reading she received instructions to "draw up the bucket" from the well that had been fashioned in one corner of the room and whatever she found was for her. Lovely things she found and well worth keeping.

Invited were Mrs. E. C. Phillips, Mrs. Clarence Gustlin, Misses Verona Trowbridge, Jean McDuggell, Alice Gall and the honoree, Miss McKean.

HOSTS TO CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Carden Entertain At Pleasant Evening Meeting Yesterday

A pleasant meeting of the Evening Card Club was held yesterday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Carden, at their home on Bush street, beautiful red roses brightening the home.

At the conclusion of the interesting game, Mrs. Roy Peterson was awarded the trophy for high score.

The small tables were then utilized for the service of the delectable collection, the following being present to enjoy the occasion:

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dubois, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Sinke of Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hawk and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Plumb.

ROMANTIC WEDDING

Young People Who Met At Modjeska's Two Years Ago, Return to Plight Vows

A romance begun two years ago in the Forest of Arden, Modjeska's home in Santiago canyon, was crowned yesterday when Miss Vesta Cornell of Los Angeles and Theodore Cope of Downey, son of James H. Cope and brother of Mrs. Frank Greenleaf of this city, were married at high noon, Dean Norton of Pomona College, officiating at the simple ceremony, which was witnessed only by the groom's father and sister, Miss Ethel Cope.

Mr. Cope is a graduate of Pomona College and the bride also attended that institution. Two years ago when the bride and her parents were camping at Modjeska's, an introduction took place, the friendship begun ending in yesterday's wedding. The honeymoon will be spent in the canyon, after which Mr. and Mrs. Cope will reside at Downey at the family home, where father and son are prosperous ranchers.

Party at Harper
A very pleasant evening was given to the young people of Harper Saturday evening last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Partlow.

The evening was spent in playing games and later came something that made everyone's eyes open (also their mouths) when the waiters entered the room with some delicious strawberries that had real whipped cream on them, and—oh! the cakes that were passed around—were tempted some of them to wrap some of it in their napkins and for no reason they preferred to keep their napkins for keep-sakes.

The guests departed for their homes at a late hour, all of them wishing the evenings were not so short.

Those who enjoyed the evening were Mr. and Mrs. J. Partlow, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fowler; Misses Thelma, Snow, Rose King, Pearl Best, Alice King, Messrs. Will Rochester, Ed Bennett, Carl Beltz, Harold Grafton, Glenn Partlow, John Boyd, Billie Partlow, Ralph Beltz and Cary Newton.

Missionary Meeting

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the First Congregational church will meet Wednesday at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. E. L. Tiede, 618 South Main street. A cordial invitation is extended to all the ladies of the church.

Sew for Red Cross

Mrs. L. K. Strong has charge of the Red Cross work for the high school and sewing will be carried on there all day Saturday, Mrs. Strong having secured the services of a competent dressmaker to cut out and prepare the work.

If mothers and those interested cannot sew all day, they are urged to spend as much time as possible.

Ladies' Aid to Meet

The Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow afternoon in the parlors of the church. A large attendance is desired.

Intermediates Enjoy Picnic

Mrs. C. A. Bowers, class mother for Section 6 of the Intermediate High School, of which E. A. Sundberg is teacher, took about twenty of the young people to Balboa Saturday afternoon, where they enjoyed swimming and boat riding and a wienie bake and marshmallow roast on the sands.

The jolly company was taken to the beach in automobiles furnished by Mrs. Bowers and Mr. Richards and all report a most delightful time, returning home about 8 p. m.

STRUCK HEAD ON BASIN, FELL UNCONSCIOUS

Al Commerford, electrician employed by the Cope Electrical Company, was rendered unconscious for a time about 6 o'clock last evening when he struck his head against a wash basin in the display room at the Cope store on Sycamore street.

Commerford was working at a faucet under a high basin used for demonstration purposes. He held an electric light in one hand. He got a slight shock and in raising up struck his head against the basin. "Jack" Cope and Haines, who were in the store, heard Commerford fall and rushed to his assistance. He was revived in a few minutes and this morning is at work, with a slight cut over the left eye as the only evidence of his mishap.

RED CROSS QUARTERS ARE TOO SMALL NOW

The Red Cross headquarters in the Spurgeon building have been outgrown and next week they will be removed to the Army building on Birch street, off Fourth street.

Yesterday from 4 to 5 p. m. the Otetano Camp Fire Girls went to headquarters and did some good work for the cause. The girls were under the supervision of their guardian, Miss Hazel Benus and were Misses Jean Goodwin, Margaret Roemer, Josephine Hervey, Vesper Ball, Susie Temple, Grace Egge, Grace Robertson, Elizabeth Anderson, Marie McNaught and Helen Randall.

THE OPEN FORUM

The Open Forum on Sunday discussed the topic, "Does Single Tax Conflict with the Philosophy of Socialism?" There were varying attitudes as to whether or not Socialists should work for single tax measures. It was argued by some that single tax would not strike at the root of the present economic system and is therefore not worth working for. Others held that the country must move forward through gradual reform measures.

Next Sunday Levin of Los Angeles, who has lectured to Santa Ana people, will discuss censorship of the press and freedom of speech.

PENNSYLVANIA SOCIETY
The Pennsylvania Society will hold an all-day picnic at the Soldiers' Home, near Sawtelle, Saturday, May 19. A band of music will be in attendance, and there will be a program of sports. Patriotic addresses will be delivered, and among those expected to speak is Captain John D. Fredericks.

CREDITORS UNABLE TO LOCATE ANY MONEY HE HAS SECURED ON LOANS

Yesterday at a hearing before B. E. Tarver, local referee in bankruptcy, creditors of Louis Jacober, rancher, who has been declared to be bankrupt, were unable to get any information to show that Jacober has any money at all with which to pay any percentage of the $8,000 in claims that go to make up his liabilities.

Jacober was quizzed as to money that he had borrowed. He said he had spent it in his work. He said he had that is exempted under a homestead. Of the $8,000 liabilities there is $2,000 that is in a mortgage that can be foreclosed. The rest of the creditors apparently will get nothing. Several of the creditors are at Huntington Beach.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT
CORONER'S JURY IS OPINION SHOOTING WAS NOT JUSTIFIED

Today the jury used by Coroner Winbier for the investigation of the murder of Villagomez at La Habra by Rufus Acosta yesterday brought in a verdict that the act was not justified. Villagomez and Acosta had a quarrel. Villagomez started to climb a ladder into an attic to get his hat and coat so he could go outside and fight Acosta. Acosta thought he was going for a gun, and fired. The first shot went through the ceiling. Acosta climbed the ladder, and shot Villagomez through the chest. Acosta's preliminary examination has been set by Justice Cox for June 5.

Didn't Like It
R. W. Chase of San Diego was much pained because Justice Cox fined him $20 for speeding forty-four miles an hour.

Hearing is Set
The preliminary examination of Sam Hutchinson, charged with non-support of a child, was set for May 29.

EGGS ARE PUT UP TO COVER BAIL BOND

HUTCHINSON, Kan., May 14.—When J. J. Pankratz, a farmer, arrested on a charge of reckless driving, learned the amount of his bond he was unable to put up the cash and could think of no one on whom to call. He said he had with him no personal property of value, but offered to put up a case of eggs for his appearance in police court. The bond was accepted.

FUTURE OFFICERS AT PRESIDIO DIVE INTO WORK AT 5:30 A. M.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Notes of the reveille blared across the parade ground and through the canopies at the Presidio at 5:30 a. m. today and the first reserve officers' training camp on the coast of the German-American war was on in earnest.

Scarcely had the last bugle note died away when there was a hurrying and scurrying of 2500 students of the camp eager to begin the three-months' grind which will lead many of them to army commissions.

At 10 a. m. the entire personnel of the camp gathered on the parade ground and Lieutenant Colonel Fred W. Slade, commandant, administered the oath.

The remainder of the morning was devoted to organization and assignment to companies and the issuance of equipment. This afternoon the rudiments of barracks regulations were explained and instruction was given in the military method of arranging beds and lockers.

Orders were issued today closing all but two main roads through the Presidio grounds, in order that drills may not be interfered with.

PITTSBURG BOOSTERS GO AFTER MORE TRADE

PITTSBURG, May 15.—Pittsburg started a vigorous offensive for more trade today when Father Pitt sent 200 of his favorite sons out on a special train to blaze new business trails throughout southwestern Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.

The boosters will make short "whooper-up" stops at Uniontown, Pa., Morgantown, Fairmont and Clarksburg, W. Va., tomorrow; Marietta, O., Sistersville, New Martinsville and Wheeling, W. Va., on Thursday, and Washington, Pa., on Friday.

FIRST TRAIN TO WHITTIER WILL BE FARMERS'
SPECIAL

Salt Lake Preparedness Train
To Be At Quaker City
On May 23

The first train over the Salt Lake branch into Whittier will be the big farmers' special of the Salt Lake. It is known as the national preparedness, education and demonstration train and it is due at Whittier on the morning of May 23 and will stop there all day.

It is expected that many farmers from Santa Ana and vicinity will go to Whittier for the day. The train is composed of twelve cars, with cars especially equipped for giving demonstrations in the lines of endeavor represented by it. There is a car for bean culture and forage crops, a car of blooded stock and U. S. Forestry exhibits, each of the twelve cars containing special exhibits. A tractor demonstration is one of the features. There is a corps of forty instructors with the train.

Whittier is preparing to make the event a gala affair. M. J. Haig, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and R. H. Blair, of the publicity bureau, were here yesterday interesting local people in the train and passing literature.

Extend Invitation

The 1918 convention of the Fire Insurance Agents' Association of California will be held in Santa Ana if an invitation extended by the city council and Chamber of Commerce of Santa Ana prevails at the convention to be held in Oakland Friday and Saturday of this week.

Mac O. Robbins of the insurance firm of Robbins & Son, is president of the association, and he went to the convention with an invitation to hold next year's session here backed by the two organizations.

One hundred and fifty badges on which were printed "Santa Ana 1918" were forwarded to Robbins today by Secretary Metzgar of the Chamber of Commerce.

ENTIRE L. A. FAMILY
IN U. S. WAR SERVICE

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—The only reason there are just four members of the family of John Adams enlisted in active war service is because there are only two children. The entire family is now serving its country.

The head of the family is sergeant in the army engineer's corps. The only son, Harold Ruskin Adams, is a first-class private in the same company.

The fact that she has reared a family did not keep Mrs. Adams out of Uncle Sam's service. Because she became interested in telegraphy 15 years ago and became proficient in several codes. This is why, when past 40, she was accepted for wireless telegraph service in the army. The other member of the family, Irene Adams, was one of the three Los Angeles women to be selected as a yeoman in the navy.

NO NEW TRIAL

OF R. MOLINO

Talkative Young Man Means Fact That He Gets a Year In Jail

Efforts to get a new trial for Jacinto Garcia fell on barren ground this morning, and instead of two weeks in which his attorney might prepare arguments, an hour was given, and at the end of the hour Garcia was sentenced to spend the rest of his life in San Quentin.

Garcia was convicted of murdering Reyes Molino in Santa Ana on April 25, 1909. He escaped to Mexico, and it was over seven years before he was arrested. This morning Attorney Chapman of Los Angeles said that he wanted to present extensive arguments for a new trial, and he asked for two weeks in which to prepare himself. Judge West concluded that the law directs that sentence be passed with five days, and he therefore declined to give the time asked.

The jury that tried Garcia fixed the penalty at life imprisonment. It remained for the judge to name the prison. He named San Quentin. Garcia declared that a great injustice had been done him.

Talked Into Jail
John Wesley Hastings, Jr., lied himself into a year in jail this morning. Had he been honest in his statements to Judge West he might have gotten probation. His words were numerous and ill-advised. He told about a pal of his who could neither read nor write. A few minutes later Judge West asked him how long he had known this pal.

"Oh, ever since we were kids together," said Hastings with the same assurance that had marked all of his talk. "We went to school together."

"What school?" asked the judge, and Hastings named three different schools they attended together.

"And yet he could neither read nor write?" Hastings was not jolted in the slightest.

"Oh, he was one of those fellows who never learned anything at school," said Hastings.

Hastings was caught in two or three other bald errors. He said his pal deposited $525 at the California National Bank. J. A. Harvey of the bank said the bank had done business with Hastings only. The check deposited was forged.

Hastings may be prosecuted in San Diego when he finishes his year in the Orange county jail.

Hastings said that they would have to send him back to Lovell, Wyo., where his father is, in a box if he had to stay in jail a year.

Case Continued
The trial of the action of the State Compensation Insurance Fund against J. D. Hinton was continued today to October 23. Action is for $19.34 for damages alleged to have occurred to Henry Rosemann of Los Angeles when his motorcycle collided with Hinton's automobile.

The Janss Investment Company has brought suit against B. F. Royle for $6648.85, alleged to be due on a contract.

U. S. LETS CONTRACT FOR VESSELS TO L. A. SHIPBUILDING FIRM

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—The first contract for new ships under the government's gigantic shipbuilding campaign, has just been let to the recently formed Los Angeles Shipbuilding & Drydock Company, it is announced. The new firm will build eight steel vessels, each to cost about $2,000,000 and be of approximately 8,800 tons capacity.

Work on the new shipyard starts next week. The vessels are to be delivered to the government between May and October of next year.

SALVATION ARMY TO HELP WAR ON KAISER

PHILADELPHIA, May 15.—The Salvation Army has joined the allies. With Commander Evangeline Booth directing operations, several thousand delegates to the eastern division's convention today got down to work on real war organization.

The army won't send men to the trenches, but it will fight America's battle at home by establishing and equipping ambulance units and helping soldiers' families. Plans under discussion here today, when adopted, will apply to all Salvation Army divisions in the United States. Two hundred and fifty meetings will be held during the convention here.

WEST FOURTH FRONT ENTERS ITS PROTEST

Contracts Are Let For 500 Feet of Fire Hose and For New Water Well

Salaries raised by city are: Seven policemen and office girl, $5 per month. Employees of street department, from $2.35 a day to $2.50. Four firemen, $5 month. Street superintendent, $5. Water department employees, $2.35 to $2.50. Three engineers and two assistants in water department, 10 per cent. Three members of office force of water department, $5 per month. Two men of water department, $2.50 to $2.75.

At the meeting of the City Trustees last night, with Trustees A. J. Visel, F. W. Tubbs, O. H. Maryatt, George McPhee and W. A. Greenleaf present, salaries were readjusted to the extent outlined above. The changes authorized by the vote of the council start from May 1, and are for the seven months commencing with that date.

The trustees entered upon an investigation of its finances with the expectation of making as equitable raises as were possible under the amount of money the city has available during the year. The raises were made after careful consideration not of what the authorities would like to do but what it could do with the money it has to do its work.

West Fourth Street
Attorney Clyde Bishop stated that he represented a frontage of 1500 feet and more on West Fourth street between Baker and Artesia. That frontage protests against the paving of the street because of the altered conditions of finance since the contracts were signed and because the signatures were given with the expectation that the P. E. would use the same paving.

"I do not say that the company securing signatures got any of them by improper methods," said Bishop, "but I do say that there are property owners there who will come here and swear to it."

Clyde Butler, representing the Orange County Engineering & Constructing Company, said that it was advisable for the sides of the street to be paved before the P. E. paves. He understood that the P. E. was to use the same class of paving that the city had found it advisable for it to use in the business part of the city.

"Our company has never made it a practice to get signatures by unfair means," said Butler, "and I resent the statement that intimates that we have used any but honest methods. I know of no unfair means used by any of our representatives, all of whom have instructions not to be unfair in their representations."

On Bishop's request action upon the request of the protesting property owners that paving of West Fourth be abandoned was postponed to next Monday night.

Contracts Awarded
On a committee recommendation, the bid of the Boston Woven Hose & Rubber Company for furnishing the fire department with 500 feet of fire hose with couplings was accepted. The bid was ninety cents a foot.

The bid of Dimmock & Otto to drill a well for the city east of the Lincoln school was accepted. The bid was $500 to 500 feet.

The street department was given instructions to turn its teams loose upon hauling away the accumulations of Clean-Up Day.

McPhee was given authority to have the bandstand at Birch Park painted.

For Extra Coat

Wells & Bressler wanted to know whether or not the city wanted the extra coat, known as the sealing coat, placed on some paving to be done on West Tenth street, west of Ross. Instructions were given to all concerned that hereafter all crushed rock and oil paving should have the seal coat.

A change of grade and location of the sewer back of the Lutherford property, where a new building is going up, was authorized, the property owner to pay the cost.

To Oil Edinger
A. B. Havens, seed grower, said that dust from Edinger street is doing material damage to his crop planted on the north side of the road. He said he was willing to pay part of the cost of oiling the street. His proposition was put into a motion, which carried, by which he will pay half the cost and the city half the cost. The job will come to about $25.

City Attorney Scott, Engineer Bonebrake and Water Superintendent Reid were named as a committee to arrange whatever deed is necessary to straighten out the E. E. Cooley title to land now occupied by the residence and grounds at the southeast corner of Fourteenth and Spurgeon. Reid said that some time Fourteenth street should be opened from Bush to French.

For Fixing Streets
McPhee reported that the committee of the whole had examined Garfield street near Fruit. On his motion the street superintendent was instructed to give a certificate of completion to the contractor when indicated repairs are made. Also, some repairs are to be made in Lacy street near Wellington.

Tubbs as chairman of a committee reported in favor of passing the bowling ordinance. That ordinance allows minors to go into bowling alleys. It prohibits bowling alleys from running on Sundays and states that the alleys must be open to view from the street.

Building Ordinance
The proposed new building ordinance, which contains seventy-two typewritten pages, was given first reading and took the usual course. It will come up for final passage next week.

2500 READY TO START LEARNING WAR GAME AT PRESIDIO CAMP

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Officers in charge of the Presidio officers' training camp enrolled the last of the prospective army officers at the camp, and 2500 men are ready for their first day's instruction. Eight hours of the first week's training is to be devoted to the art of making beds, arranging lockers and such subjects.

During the first five weeks, the work of all student officers will be the same, starting with the rudiments of army drill regulations, physical training, lectures and practice in signaling. After that the various arms of the service will be organized and instruction will be specialized.

SANTA ANA BEST BUSINESS CITY IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

H. T. Trueblood Deplores the Lack of Interest In Maintaining Clean Premises

"Santa Ana is one of the best business cities in Southern California, but in point of cleanliness, she is several steps behind her neighbors of the Southland."

Such is the observation of H. T. Trueblood, who has travelled over Southern California pretty generally in the last six weeks. Trueblood is a retired business man from Washington, Ind., and his business life has made him a close observer of the business side and general appearance of communities which he visits.

"I have been in a great many of the cities of Southern California during the past six months," said Trueblood today. "In none did I see business activity equal to that of Santa Ana. There was little or no trading in the stores. I went in many and did not see a single customer. The business men of those cities do not seem to have the snap over merchants here. Friday and Saturday of last week, following shortly my return from my trip I went through the streets of Santa Ana and noted business conditions. Our stores were filled with customers and the clerks were busy meeting them and taking care of their demands."

"I am proud of Santa Ana—her business activities and general prosperity condition. But, as much as I regret to say it, I must say that it is the dirtiest and raggedest city I saw on my whole trip. I am glad to see the clean-up campaign on. I hope it will rid every vacant lot and every curb in the city of weeds. We have every natural advantage, and there is no reason why our city should not present just as neat and tidy an appearance all the time as any city in Southern California. There is no excuse for it being otherwise, except sheer neglect on the part of property owners."

"I came here from a city that is one of the cleanest of clean cities in the United States. There they have regular clean-up campaigns, with the city officials, the merchants and the property owners co-operating in every effort to keep the streets and home ground clean."

"The merchants voluntarily offer prizes for the best kept premises, and following a clean-up campaign of three days, the mayor of the city invites the mayors of two or three other cities to come over, pass judgment on the homes of the towns and award the prizes. From forty to fifty prizes are awarded. The fact that I was deeply interested in the activities there in behalf of a city beautiful, perhaps, is the reason for my close observation and criticism of the conditions which obtain here."

EXPRESS OFFICIAL SAYS CARS PLENTY

Pacific Coast fruit growers will do their share in providing for the nation's food supply, and there should be plenty of cars to handle this year's crop.

This is the cheering message sent out by J. W. McClymonds, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Fruit Express, and one of the best posted men in the West on horticultural conditions.

Mr. McClymonds has just made a survey of the situation with the view of securing all the equipment necessary to meet the needs of the growers. The Pacific Fruit Express Company has 12,800 of its own cars, and is rushing the construction of 2700 additional cars which will be available shortly. In addition to this number, the P.F.E. people are leasing 2500 Armour cars to meet the emergency.

McClymonds estimates that the California orange crop will be ten per cent more than last year, and the melon crop in the Imperial Valley will run from 25 to 30 per cent heavier. Turlock melons will be about the same as last season.

Deciduous tree fruit will be about the same as last season, but California grapes will be much heavier. Twenty-seven thousand cars of citrus fruit have been handled so far with the indications pointing to all carriers loading about 50,000 cars.

The P. F. E. is getting ready to handle the cantaloupe crop of the Imperial Valley which will start about May 25. The acreage has been increased from 4000 to 13,000. The P. F. E. expects to handle 6000 cars. The Turlock cantaloupes will follow. The deciduous fruit movement will mingle with the Southern California cantaloupe crop. The green fruit crop will probably call for 15,000 cars.

LET OPTIMISM REIGN, STEP ON TROTTLER OF PROGRESS

Secretary Metzgar Sees Good Times, Not Bad, Ahead of Country

"Let optimism reign, dethrone pessimism."

In brief, this expresses the opinion of J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, with reference to the wave of hysterical economy which threatens to demoralize business.

There is no real occasion for practicing strict economy at this time, in the opinion of the secretary, for the war will make times better than they have ever been before and money easier.

"This is no time to apply the brakes," says Metzgar. "If ever there was a time to step on the throttle of progress, it is now."

"The United States will loan hundreds of millions of dollars to our allies which have been locked up in the vaults of the country. This vast uncountable wealth will be put to work in the manufacture and purchase of war necessities, and the production of food supplies. Our country can and will meet the demands made upon it. Its capacity for production is enormous. Unheard of hundreds of thousands of acres but await the industrious man with the hoe. In the past the market was our chief concern, now, that the market is at hand why indulge in pessimism and unnecessary retrenchment?"

Another indication of commercial prosperity is the fact that in all probability more than one million men will be withdrawn from the ranks of labor and industry and enter the army. This will present an opportunity for a like number of wage earners, who are not now employed, to enter the active labor market and serve their country by increasing its production and at the same time receive more money for like services than ever before.

"In Sherman's time war was all he claimed for it. Today there is no word nor words in the 'American' language to fittingly describe its horror and tragedy, but that is no reason why we should assume a pessimistic outlook and encourage intemperate retrenchment."

"War has given England its most wonderful era of business activity. Therefore, much as we deplore war and its inevitable distress, I believe there is every reason for an undaunted optimism as regards the commercial outlook of our country."

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY WAR SCHOOL OPENED

NEW YORK, May 15.—Registration for instruction in Columbia University's "war school" closed today with scores of embryo generals learning the modern art of battle.

In the military division, under Prof. Vickers and Captain Van Liew, students are being instructed in dealing with noxious gases and liquid fire, trench fighting, rifle bullet penetration through different metals, how to take cover, "digging in," light and portable trench tools, the use of the sand bag, working under fire, barbed wire methods of erection, mining and counter mining, the periscope and its uses, trench attacks and bombing raids.

The naval division under Professor Slichter, is devoted principally to the electrical work on Uncle Sam's fighting ships, including searchlight operation, turret control and gun fire.

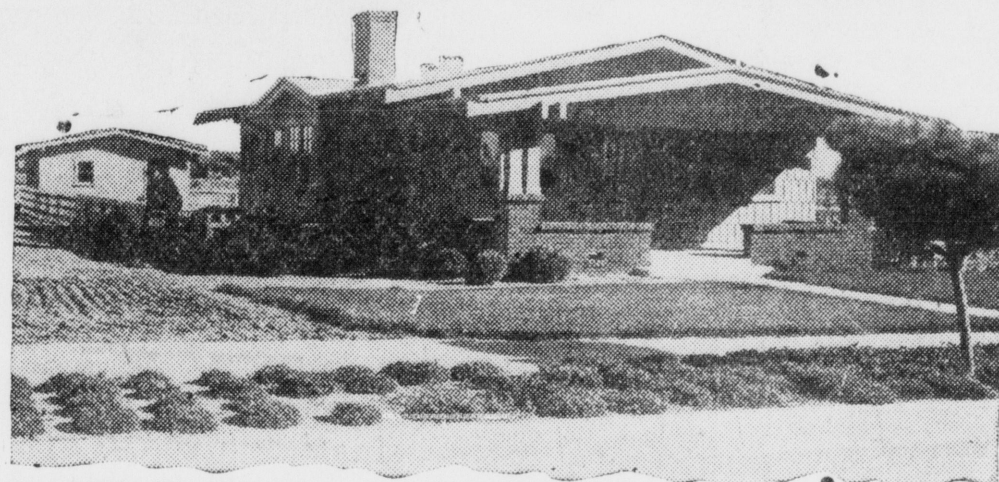

Tuition is free. Sham battles, in which every element of a European fight will be introduced in theory, are to conclude the course of study next month. The whole program will probably be repeated in the summer school session.

Juice of Lemons! How to Make Skin White and Beautiful

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can preserve a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as sallowness, freckles and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoother and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful to smoothen rough, red hands.

OVER 200 GO TO BIG CONCLAVE OF G. A. R.

Santa Ana Is Going to Be Well Represented In Encampment at Long Beach

Local G. A. R. men estimate that no less than 200 people left Santa Ana today for Long Beach to be in attendance at the fiftieth annual encampment of the Department of California and Nevada, G. A. R. The encampment starting today will end Friday evening.

Many of the local G. A. R. men and members of affiliated organizations will remain at Long Beach throughout the encampment, while others will be there a day at a time, going back and forth by automobile.

A special train from San Francisco bearing Department Commander A. E. Leavitt of the G. A. R. and the members of two official staffs arrived in Long Beach last night.

The streets of Long Beach are gaily decorated and an arch of welcome has been erected over the entrance of the Pine Avenue pier to greet the visitors.

The six organizations sending delegates to the convention from various parts of California and Nevada are the G. A. R., W. R. C., Sons of Veterans, Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary, Daughters of Veterans and Ladies of the G. A. R. Hotel Virginia will be the headquarters of the various organization officers.

SPORTS

By H. C. Hamilton

NEW YORK, May 15.—Fred Fulton is taking a short cut to permanent retirement from the pugilistic spotlight, or else he has found the short way back to popular favor with the fight fans.

Fulton wants to meet Sam Langford!

When Fred delivered the foul blow that lost him prestige in New York and sent him back to Minnesota he brought down on his head the scorn of all the New York fans. They have not yet stopped talking about it.

Fulton seems to be the ideal man to meet Jess Willard for the championship. In spite of the unfortunate outcome of his affair with Carl Morris he still looms as the most logical man. Morris flinched when he made such a poor showing with Jim Coffey and Frank Moran has been out of the running for a long time.

Fulton is a fighter of ability. He was learning fast when he ran into the rough-house methods of Morris. If he should get Sam into the ring and belabor the veteran negro there would be no one ready to say he wasn't at least half ready for the big fight.

Fulton couldn't come back with merely a point victory over the crafty black. While it would get back some of his lost prestige, it wouldn't necessarily entitle him to any further consideration. He would have to score a knockout and it wouldn't do to make it a halfway affair.

Gunboat Smith once whipped Sam Langford, the records show, but he was foolish enough to try it again and the result was a defeat for Smith.

Langford sometimes fights wonderfully well; at other times he can be outpointed. But the white man has never been found—nor the black one either, for that matter—good enough to stop Langford. Jack Johnson never would meet him after he gained the championship. Others have avoided him by drawing the color line. Fulton will be censured for fighting him on the ground that mixed bouts should not be held, but, just the same, Fulton has found the way back if he is good enough to put over the proper punch.

At Clunes Wed., Thurs. and Friday

The San Francisco earthquake and fire has been translated to the screen as the climaxing incident of a series of sensational events to be set forth at Clunes' Theater on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, when "Hell Morgan's Girl" will be the attraction. In this stirring melodrama beautiful and talented Dorothy Phillips will play the leading role, supported by William Stowell as the hero, and Lon Chaney as the villain in the piece. The days before the "quake" have been renowned, and present residents declare that their like will never return. A product of those times were the dance halls and saloons that never blossom under the glorified title of "cafe"—but it was no cafe that "Hell" Morgan conducted. In "Sailor's Rest" the daughter of "Hell" Morgan reigned the queen and because of this very fact this photoplay has been made strong and vigorous, reflecting the trouble that love and higher ideals encountered in entering the queen's domain.

Reducing Food Cost

Supplied by Office of Information, United States Department of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15.—

The use of flours which contain more or less bran is sometimes advisable both for the sake of the variety which they give to the diet and because of the mineral substances and growth-regulating substances these flours contain. Farmers' Bulletin 807 of the United States Department of Agriculture, "Bread and Bread Making," includes, in addition to white bread recipes, a number for home made bread from whole wheat or graham flour, from home-ground flour, from rye, rolled oats, etc. These are as follows:

Whole-Wheat or Graham Bread
1½ cups lukewarm milk, 3 tablespoons brown sugar, 1½ teaspoons salt, 3 cups whole-wheat or graham flour, ½ yeast cake.

Scald the milk, together with the sugar and salt. When lukewarm, add the yeast, mixing it first with a little of the milk. Add the flour, beat well, and let it double its volume. Beat it thoroughly, put into a pan, and let it rise. In a pan of standard size it should come to the top.

The above recipe may be used in preparing bread from home-ground meal. There are many homes, particularly in the country, where the housewife can obtain unground wheat at a moderate cost. If ground in the ordinary coffee mill, such wheat makes a coarse bread, not very light in texture, but of such good flavor that it may well be used occasionally to give variety to the diet. It is useful, too, in places where good bran cannot be obtained easily and where coarse breads are desired as a means of preventing constipation. In making such bread with a view to economy the housekeeper should compute what it will cost her per loaf, including labor and fuel, as compared with other breads she makes. Skim milk instead of whole milk can be used; homemade yeast, either liquid or dry cakes, is a possibility; and some might like the bread with less sugar or unsweetened. Another recipe which has been worked out follows:

Home-Ground Wheat Bread
1½ cups water or skim milk, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 3 cups home-ground wheat flour, ½ cake dry yeast or 1 gill liquid yeast.

Set a sponge at night, using half of the flour. In the morning add the rest of the flour, beat well, put into a greased pan, allow to rise until it doubles its bulk, and bake.

Corn-Meal-and-Wheat Bread
1½ cups milk, water, or a mixture of the two, ½ cake compressed yeast or 1½ cups milk, water, or a mixture of the two, ¼ cup liquid yeast, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, butter (if used) 1 tablespoon, 1 cup corn meal, 2 cups wheat flour.

Pour 1½ cupfuls of the water over the corn meal, salt, sugar, and fat (if used), and beat the mixture gradually to the boiling point or nearly to it and cook 20 minutes. This cooking can be done in a double boiler. The water is sufficient only to soften the meal a little. Allow the meal to cool to about the temperature of the room and add the yeast, mixed with the rest of the water (¼ cupful), or the ¼ cupful of liquid yeast. Mold thoroughly, let rise until it doubles its bulk, make into a loaf, place in a pan of standard size, allow to rise until it nearly fills the pan, and bake 45 or 50 minutes.

Rice Bread
1 cup lukewarm water, milk, or a mixture of the two, 1 cup uncooked rice, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, butter (if used) 1 tablespoon or less, ½ cake compressed yeast, 2 cups wheat flour.

Steam the rice with one-half of the liquid until it is soft. This is done better in a steamer than in a double boiler, for the liquid is so small in amount that the rice does not become soft readily and the presence of the steam helps. Put the sugar, salt, and fat (if used) into the mixing bowl and pour over them the remaining liquid (½ cupful). When the mixture has become lukewarm add the yeast and ½ cupful flour. Allow this sponge to rise until very light. Add the boiled rice, which should have been cooled until lukewarm, and the rest of the flour. This dough is so thick that some pressure is required to work in the last portions of the flour. Allow the dough to rise until it has doubled its bulk, form into a loaf, place in a pan of standard size, allow it to rise until it nearly reaches the top of the pan, and bake.

Rye Bread
1 quart milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 4 teaspoons salt, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cake compressed yeast, 3 cupfuls flour (1 cup being wheat and the remainder rye).

Follow the directions for making wheat bread according to the short process until after the bread has been molded the second time. At this point the dough should be placed in a 6-quart bowl lined with a cloth into which flour has been rubbed. When the dough has risen to the top of the bowl turn out on a hot sheet iron (a dripping pan inverted will do), over which 1 tablespoonful of flour has been sprinkled, and put it immediately into a very hot oven. After 10 minutes lower the temperature somewhat and bake for one hour. This recipe is a modification of an old German household method of making rye bread.

Roll-Oats Bread
2 cups boiling water, ½ cup brown sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 yeast cake, ¾ cup lukewarm water, 1½ cups rolled oats, 5 cups flour.

Dissolve the yeast cake in the luke-

REGULAR $500 LAND (with WATER) at $250 PER ACRE

Nuevo Ranch Co.:

Gentlemen:—Replying to your favor, my apricot grove has been in bearing for ten years or more. For five successive years it paid me an income of $250 per acre per year, over and above drying and selling expenses. I had one big year when I got a little over 10 tons of cots per acre which sold for $40 a ton orchard run. Another year I sold at $57 per ton. Last year I got 12½ tons per acre. This crop I had dried and am holding it for a better market. We are now offered from 8 cents to 10½ cents per pound graded. My average for ten years has been $150 per acre per year, the yield being from 10 to 12 tons per acre nearly every year. I know of other orchards doing as well or even better than mine, and I think any man should expect this after five or six years if he gives his grove the care needed.

(Signed) GEO. C. NEVINS.

Nuevo Ranch land is the last of its kind that Southern California offers at $250 an acre—and that is why Orange County ranchers, the best judges of farm land in the Southwest, are rapidly settling up the valley.

We have just published a large 16-page booklet filled with testimonials about Nuevo Ranch by former Orange County ranchers. The honest, sincere, straight-forward letters in this booklet should convince any open-minded farmer. Write or call for the booklet today.

Nuevo Ranch is beautifully located in the picturesque San Jacinto Valley in Riverside county. The distance from Riverside is about 20 miles. The property is reached by the Santa Fe and also by paved auto boulevards.

The soil is of remarkable uniformity. The entire ranch is a deep, rich, responsive sandy loam which does not bake. It has great depth and is reducible to the finest degree. There are no rocks, hard pan or alkali—just rich, "easy-workable" loamy soil.

It would amaze you to know how persistently our subscribers read the Register "Want Ad" column.

We sincerely believe that our "Too Late to Classify" column is read by everybody who takes the Register.

We base this assertion on the great number of testimonials received in our office every day from people who have used Register "Want Ads"—which we know to be the most potent selling agency at the disposal of people in this community.

Here are three sample testimonials:

Mrs. T. A. Davis, 1323 East Third St., advertised 10 laying Buttercup hens and a rooster for sale. Early next morning she sold the whole lot to the first caller. "People kept coming all day," she added, by way of appreciation.

Otto G. Kan, 610 South Ross, advertised some furniture, enough for three rooms. By 7:30 on the evening of his Register "Want Ad" insertion he sold the furniture.

J. W. Osborn advertised some colony houses and feed boxes for chicks.

"I received inquiries near and far, one coming all the way from Capistrano," he enthusiastically testified.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Its Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress properly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of taking too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the action of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a menace of freeing the blood of its impurity. In damp and chilly weather the skin pores are closed and forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually finding its way into the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and painful rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism, from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoon in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia salt. It is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is official to your kidneys as well.

Merchants Below Have Made Special Preparations to Furnish You With Materials

Civic "house cleaning" time is at hand. It will be observed officially in Santa Ana Saturday, May 19. It will be official as far as the Public Improvement Committee of the Chamber of Commerce can make it.

Plans for operating were decided upon, the city was divided into five districts and a captain for each district was named. Main and Fourth streets quarter the city, with the prescribed fire limits of the city placed in the hands of City Marshal Jernigan and Fire Chief Mont Jackson.

Frank Ey was named as captain of the northeast district, J. M. Akin the southeast district, N. Travis the northwest district, and P. L. Tople the southwest district.

George W. Minter will act as field marshal.

The campaign involves the renovation of the interiors of buildings as well as yards, streets and alleys.

The removal of all rubbish and useless things. Rubbish is responsible for most fires.

Revenue can be derived from the sale of waste paper, which is now worth 75c per cwt.

Nothing will do more to improve the appearance of Santa Ana than the liberal use of paint. Not only dwellings, but business fronts should receive attention. Signs should be freshened—they indicate prosperity if newly painted.

Useless and unsightly outbuildings should be torn down. Open spaces and fresh air are better.

Alleys need attention.

A clean yard is not sufficient; it should be pleasing to the eye. Plant grass or vegetables. Sod bare spots in lawns. Plant shrubs, vines and trees.

See that spaces between sidewalk and curb are well sodded or planted. The lawnmower is a most useful article, and will contribute materially to the good looks of Santa Ana.

The thresholds of Santa Ana should be made inviting to the visitor, whether he comes by automobile, trolley or train.

This is a good time to find out about the sanitary ordinances of the town. How about the regulations in regard to garbage collection, the use of closed garbage cans, manure piles, spitting, toilets, etc.? Are they adequate? Are they enforced?

Start a warfare against weeds.

It is very important that the clean up idea be impressed upon the minds of school children.

Saturday was selected because it will give school boys and girls an opportunity to co-operate in the general clean-up scheme of the day. The people of Santa Ana don't necessarily have to wait until Saturday to put their places in apple pie order, but those who do not clean up prior to that day will be expected to get busy on Saturday. Pride should impel everyone to join in the campaign. If all are moved with the spirit of the day, the city will present a neat and tidy appearance.
